Shepparton Law Courts, VIC

COURT SERVICES VICTORIA

ADCO secured the $70 million Shepparton Law Courts Main Works redevelopment through an Early Contractor Involvement (ECI) method of procurement.

Stage 1 involved the construction of a new multi-jurisdictional courts facility capable of meeting current and future community demand. The new centre is comprised of a multi-level facility housing six court rooms, basement, custodial zone, security facilities, judicial chambers, and administrative areas, offices, meeting rooms, lobby and associated amenities.

The facilities reflect the most contemporary applications of courthouse design, information technology, environmental sustainability and changing justice delivery models. The design also ensures capability to accommodate future service demands in the region.

The entry lobby is inspired by the image of the ancient River Red Gum and the base of the new building founded on brick – a throwback of older country court houses. The new five-story building engages with the older adjacent 1930s Court House by way of a generous landscaped public plaza that serves the courts' staff and visitors.

Stage Two works involved the demolition of the existing 1980's court house and the completion of the forecourt.

The multi-level facility includes six courtrooms, a custodial zone, security facilities, judicial chambers, administrative areas and associated amenities.

The strategy to construct the new court building, before demolishing the existing 1980s court, was designed so that legal proceedings could continue unhindered.

“The project was delivered on target and i would say that at the end of the day it is a bloody good building. It is a quality product which they really delivered well. The finishes are excellent.”

Art Gallery of Western Australia Refurbishment, WA

BMW

ADCO proudly undertook a major transformation of the Art Gallery of Western Australia (AGWA)'s rooftop, in addition to basement-level restoration lab improvements.

AGWA's existing rooftop was redeveloped to offer 'Elevate' – an open-air sculpture walk featuring pieces from the State Collection, a multi-purpose venue with capacity of 500 people, a new internal gallery, sky bridge, external lift and a 34-metre artwork.

Construction utilised 75 tonnes of steel, 180,000 screws to fix down 13,500 linear metres of decking boards, 27 tonnes worth of glass installed and procured from overseas, with the largest auto door installed weighing in at 700kg. Additionally, the largest artwork in the WA state-owned collection which is 34 metres long was also installed, created by Noongar artist Christopher Pease.

Existing conservation labs occupying the rooftop were relocated to the basement level and improvements to better preserve WA art were undertaken.

ADCO was pleased to work with Perth-based TAG Architects and Sydney firm fjmt as project architects.

ADCO's quality delivery of the project was recognised in the 2022 Western Australian Master Builders Awards where it won Best refurbishment or renovation project in the $10-20 million category.

Bundanon Art Museum and Bridge for Creative Learning, NSW

BUNDANON TRUST

ADCO was delighted to lead our client Bundanon's project to build a subterranean art museum and Bridge for Creative Learning at Riversdale.

Nestled alongside the Shoalhaven River, Bundanon's collection of nearly 4,000 artworks and objects, valued at over $43 million, will be safely housed in the new subterranean Art Museum, built into the hillside and protected from bushfires. The Art Museum will showcase a year-round program of modern and contemporary exhibitions, celebrating the work of many artists including Arthur Boyd, one of the most renowned Australian artists of the 20th century.

The Bridge over the valley provides space for events, workshops, and accommodation, with incredible views of the river and surrounding landscape.

This visually stunning and culturally significant development, designed by Kerstin Thompson Architects was winner of the Sir Zelman Cowen Award and The Sulman Medal, in the public architecture category at the National and NSW Chapter Architecture Awards 2022. The named awards are the highest honour that can be bestowed on public and community projects. The project has also received national recognition in the sustainable architecture category.
